

New Zealand takes bronze in the rain

New Zealand's game against the Philippines was marked by a typical tropical rainstorm that was so strong it impaired the vision of the players and sent the spectators to shelter. After the Philippines went up 6-0 the Kiwi's started to gel but the difference was too big and they lost 12 - 8. Because of their earlier defeat against the Australians, they ended up 3rd with Australia and the Philippines battling it out for first in an hour.